To the Gigantic Playground Hiring Team,

I am pleased to recommend Jeffery Ferguson. In the interest of full transparency, Jeffery is my son — but I am writing here as a business owner who has relied on him professionally for nearly two decades, and I would tell you the same thing about any contractor who had served my practice this well.

I run an interior-design practice working on yachts, aircraft, and commercial and residential projects, and Jeffery has been my technology and business-systems lead throughout — effectively my fractional CTO and CISO. He built and maintained the systems the studio runs on, kept our data and communications secure, managed the software and hardware behind our project work, and solved the constant stream of technical problems a design practice runs into without ever making me think about them twice. When something needed to work — a presentation, a file, a system, a deadline — I handed it to Jeffery and it was handled.

Beyond the technical skill, what has always stood out is his reliability and his judgment. He is resourceful, calm under pressure, and genuinely invested in the success of the people he works for. He treats a small business's time and money with real care.

I recommend him wholeheartedly and am glad to speak with you directly about the work he has done for my practice.
