To Whom It May Concern,

Glad to write in support of Jeffery Ferguson — "Phoenix." My family has known the Fergusons for years, going back to Jeffery's father's work in the yacht industry with Westport, and to Sally J Interiors' design work on our own home — my wife Janice and I worked with Sally on our interiors, and Jeffery was the one who handled the electronics side of that project for us.

What stood out about Jeffery even then was how comfortable he was explaining technical decisions in plain terms and making sure the work actually held up, not just that it looked finished. That's stayed consistent in every interaction we've had with him since.

He comes from a family we trust, and he's earned that trust in his own right through the work he's done for us directly. Glad to speak to that.
